INSPIRE MAGAZINE IS THE PREMIER SPIRITUALITY AND WELLNESS MAGAZINE IN THE NORDIC REGION

Inspire is a magazine filled with inspiration for how you can live a joyful life where you listen to your inner wisdom. The magazine gives you in-depth interviews with leading experts in health and personal development. We present reports with Gregg Braden, Deepak Chopra, davidji and Christine Page, to name a few.

Inspire was founded in 2009 by Alan and Cissi Williams, therapists with a passion for helping others. Now part of Eleonor Amora's House of Sovereignty multiplex, Inspire is actively expanding to a global English speaking digital platform.

ABOUT INSPIRE'S OWNER, ELEONOR AMORA

Highly esteemed as the forefront coach for spiritual warriors known as Indigos, Eleonor Amora is globally renowned for her groundbreaking work in esotericism. Her mission is to connect a global community of spiritual rebels and show them that the true path to power comes when you operate from a state of complete sovereignty and personal mastery over your energy field. She supports her proteges to break free from limiting belief systems, and empowers them to heal and rise above the challenges – no more giving away power, no more feeding psychic predators, and no more believing that they're small and helpless.

As a spiritual philanthropist and innovator, Eleonor Amora founded the House of Sovereignty multiplex enterprise where she is committed to changing lives through exponentially expanding and strengthening her community of spiritual rebels. Eleonor Amora is an award-winning international best-selling author who has published over ten bestsellers. She founded her publishing and media arms to teach and support budding authors to successfully use their voices and stories to build an inspiring legacy, while helping readers connect to the Universe and their consciousness on a deeper level.

With over 25 years of experience as a therapist and coach, Eleonor Amora's been featured for her authority on energy work and the Indigo awakening on television, podcasts, radio, and in magazines. Her award-winning publications on the intersection of womanhood, entrepreneurship, and metaphysics have achieved critical acclaim.
